Paula Phelan began her photography career more than 25 years ago and has worked as both a freelance and commercial photographer. Phelan's work focuses on architecture, landscapes, urban settings, flowers, portraits, technology and abstracts. Phelan has contributed her art to numerous publications, catalogs, marketing materials and advertising campaigns.

Phelan's images fall into four main series; the magnificence of flowers, reflections of every day objects, macro work "up close & personal" and the contemplation of water & sky. Phelan's personal approach to photography has brought balance to her day job as the CEO of multi-million dollar Silicon Valley company, Nadel Phelan.
